Individual evaluation

Not allowed to discuss the proposals

Typically at the desk:

PROPOSAL
PART
A & B

GUIDE FOR APPLICANTS

WORK PROGRAMME

FROM BREIFING

INDIVIDUAL EVALUATION
REPORT

Individual Reading

The following parts offer a fair idea about the proposal:

Abstract – What is it about, concrete results and innovative ideas?

Partner list – Who is involved?

First few pages of proposal – Understanding the concept

Budget – Necessary resources?

A good proposal is rather short and focused

Properly presented

Put yourself in the shoes of the Evaluators

- ✓ Follow the templates - Guide for Applicants
- ✓ Provide all information requested where it's requested
- ✓ Be consistent and clear
- ✓ Use layman's terms
- ✓ Present with tables & figures – make sure they make sense!

Ease the evaluator's job

Example: Diagram in color may look fine on the screen...

„....The software components generate input to the external devices (green box) using the data from the external processor (red box)....”

BUT.. in printed black and white...

Example Speed-train

Objective: „The project will allow trains to go at least twice as fast as today”

Question: What does the project deliver??

- ✓ An actual train with a better shape and a better engine?
- ✓ A description on how to produce it?
- ✓ Reports on research in the topic?

be innovative but realistic!

Some last words...

Presenting the proposal in a nice way helps but it is most important to:

- ✓ Be completely in line with the scope of the call and strategic objective
- ✓ Have a competent and complementary consortium
- ✓ Implement the project with a good management plan
- ✓ Write a scientifically excellent proposal
- ✓ If any weak points – provide the answer to them in the proposal
- ✓ Keep in mind the European Added Value

but of course....
